Looking Ahead

April
23 & 24

Building on our heritage

Poly Royal, 1976, will honor Mrs. Carl G. Beck of San Luis Obispo, widow of the "Father of Poly Royal," and J. Cordner Gibson, who will soon retire as Dean of Agriculture and Natural Resources. In selecting Mrs. Beck as an honored guest, the executive board of Poly Royal cited her supportive role during the formative years of Poly Royal and her continued active interest in both Poly Royal and the university. Dean Gibson was recognized for his 25 years of devotion to the advancement of agriculture and Poly Royal at Cal Poly.

As honored guests, Mrs. Beck and Dean Gibson will attend a host of special events surrounding the open house activities in the 52 instructional departments. Included in the special events are rodeos, aquacades, a soap box race, horse shows, a Saturday barbecue, musical programs, and a student carnival. Both honored guests will be recognized during the opening ceremonies for Poly Royal at 10 a.m. on Friday (Apr. 23). John Crowhurst of Yuba City, general superintendent of Poly Royal, will preside over the ceremonies at which Sue Herbst of Saratoga, 1976 Poly Royal Queen, will begin her two-day reign. The opening program will be held in the University Union Plaza.

The annual open house, which in recent years has attracted 100,000 visitors to the campus, will continue through Saturday (Apr. 24). Visitors to Poly Royal will find more than 100 exhibits and special activities occupying nearly 400 acres of the university campus. The 1976 Poly Royal is being planned around the theme, "Looking Ahead -- Building on our Heritage."

Traditional Poly Royal activities will include the Saturday barbecue in Poly Grove from 11:30 am to 1 pm; dairy and livestock showmanship competitions on Saturday; the aquacade on both Friday and Saturday; and rodeo performances on Friday and Saturday. Of more recent vintage are the tractor pulling contests on Saturday, with a seminar and practice sessions on Friday, the Poly 500 soapbox race on Saturday, powderpuff football on Saturday, the chemical magic show and Wizard of Oz shows on both days, and the Circle K pancake breakfast on Saturday morning.

Shuttle busses will transport visitors on the inner campus during both days. Parking will be available in lots along Grand Ave. and in inner lots accessible from the Highland Dr. entrance. Cal Poly faculty and staff with regular parking will be able to enter and leave the campus until 10 am on Friday (Apr. 23). After that time parking will be available only in Poly Royal visitor assigned lots.

Foods from around the globe will tempt the palates of visitors to Poly Royal. There will be 39 student-sponsored booths scattered throughout the campus selling food. For those with global tastes in food, there will be cuisine from Mexico, the Middle East, Japan, the Philippines, China, and England. Natural foods and American Indian fried bread will also be sold. For the traditional diner there will be hot dogs, hamburgers, and barbecued beef. Snowcones, watermelon, popcorn, ice cream, and carmel apples will add to the country fair atmosphere of Poly Royal. French fried artichokes, a favorite in past years, will be offered again this year.

More than 300 collegiate cowboys and cowgirls will invade Collet Arena for the 1976 Poly Royal Rodeo. Six official events are included in the men's competition -- bull riding, bareback and saddle bronc riding, steer wrestling, calf roping, and team roping. Women will compete in barrel racing, goat tying, and ribbon roping. Friday night's rodeo will begin at 7:30 pm and Saturday afternoon's at 2 pm, with opening activities scheduled for 1:30 pm.

The smell of gasoline will be conspicuously absent but the amosphere will still be explosive when the flag drops for the start of the Poly 500 soapbox race on Saturday (Apr. 24). The race will pit car against car in a bid to become the fastest gravity-powered racer at Cal Poly. Ten cars will represent campus clubs, fraternities, a local high school, and even Cal Poly, Pomona. Once they leave the starting gates a 9 am, the home made cars will try to race their way to glory. But the glory will come only after three heats down the winding downhill course. The one-third-mile course will start in front of Tenaya Hall on Grand Ave. and, after negotiating a corner, end in front of the Graphic Arts Building on Perimeter Rd.

The evolution of banking from 1776 into the future is just one of departmental exhibits of the School of Business and Social Sciences for Poly Royal. Economics through history and a computer voting display round up the activities. The banking display, presented by the Business Administration Department, will duplicate banking scenes from 1776, the days of the Old West, the Depression, and the Future. The Economics Department will have a presentation on current and historical economic issues featuring economic triumphs and tragedies. A computer voting display will be exhibited by the Political Science Department showing how the new computerized voting machines work and how they will affect the political process.

A birthday party for William Shakespeare, the change in America in the last 200 years and the heritage of printing in America will be some of the exhibits presented by the School

DISABLED STUDENTS AWARENESS DAY

All faculty and staff are invited to attend a Disabled Students Awareness Day program in Chumash Auditorium on Tuesday (Apr. 27), from 11 am to 12 noon. Hazel J. Jones (Vice President for Academic Affairs) will deliver opening remarks, followed by a panel discussion dealing with the difficulties encountered by disabled students in general and specifically on our campus.

Panel members will include disabled individuals who will engage in a question and answer dialogue with the audience. Deans and department heads are asked to encourage faculty participation in this event. The program will be aimed at increasing faculty and staff awareness of the difficulties encountered by students on campus who have permanent or temporary physical disabilities. The Academic Senate and the Activities Planning Center are jointly sponsoring the event.

of Communicative Arts and Humanities during Poly Royal. The Shakespeare Birthday Celebration will be presented by the English Department. The seventeenth century playwright wrote Macbeth, Romeo and Juliet, and The Merchant of Venice. "America 1776-1976: How Things Have Changed," is the theme used by the History Department. The exhibit will show America's change from a rural agrarian society into the urban industrialized society of the present.

The Graphic Communications Department's theme is "Printing Upon Our Heritage." Exhibits will show how printing affects people in the past, present, and future. There will be tours through the department and the Shakespeare Press Museum also will be open to visitors. A tour offered by the Journalism Department will take visitors through the offices of the Mustang Daily and Outpost, and the studios of the campus radio station, KCPR.

Music will fill the air, almost constantly, during Poly Royal. Musical groups will provide a festival of sound in and around the University Union on both days. The repertoire will range from classics to ragtime and will include both instrumental and vocal performances. The Symphonic Band, which was invited last year to Vienna to perform in an international music festival, will provide music for the opening ceremonies. The Symphonic Band also will provide a 12 noon concert in Chumash Auditorium on Saturday.

A recital of solo songs and madrigals will be presented by the University Singers on Friday at 2:30 pm Davidson Music Center 218. The concert Band will provide a musical interlude at 1 pm on Friday, in the University Union Plaza. A lively introduction to the musical events on Saturday will be provided by the University Jazz Band (Collegians). Its performance at 10 am in the University Union Plaza will be followed by the "World Famous" Majors and Minors, barbershop harmonists, and the Collegiate Quartet, with a program of contemporary music.

The Dixieland Band, with a repertoire of dixieland jazz, will entertain at 1:45 pm on Saturday in the University Union Lobby. The oldest musical group on the Cal Poly campus, the Men's Glee Club, will join the Women's Glee Club to bring the musical extravaganza to a close at 2 pm with a concert in Chumash Auditorium. The glee clubs will be joined by the Women's Sextette, the Collegiate Quartet, and the Majors and Minors.

Typewritten copy intended for the next issue of Cal Poly Report must be received prior to 12 noon on Tuesday (Apr. 27) in the Public Affairs Office, Adm. 210. Copy intended for Cal Poly Dateline is due in the Public Affairs Office by 12 noon on Wednesday (Apr. 28).

BIDS OPENED ON FISHER HALL

Nielsen-Nickels Company of Sacramento is the apparent low bidder for the construction of the new life science building at Cal Poly. The apparent low offer of $4,845,000 was submitted at one of the largest construction bid openings in the history of Cal Poly held Tuesday (Apr. 20) on campus. E. Douglas Gerard (Executive Dean), who conducted the bid opening, said that plans for the Clyde P. Fisher Science Hall were obtained by an unprecedented number of prime contractors and that ten bids were actually submitted. The previous estimated cost of the building was $5.8 Million.

Other bidders and their bids were: J.B. Allen & Company of Anaheim, $5,147,000; Steed Brothers Construction Co. of Alhambra, $5,190,000; Viola, Inc., of Oxnard, $5,388,000; T.G.I. Construction Corp. of Los Angeles, $5,394,800; Johnson & Mape Construction Company of Palo Alto, $5,403,000; E.A. Hathaway & Company of San Jose, $5,729,100; J.D. Timmons, Inc., of La Puente, $5,985,570; Jones Brothers Construction Corporation of Beverly Hills, $5,999,900 ; and Oberg Construction Corp. of Simi Valley, $6,033,000.

Gerard said construction, scheduled to begin on or about June 15 on the 74,000 square foot building, will take up a 1.2-acre site adjacent to the Science North building and the administration building. The new structure will accommodate 729 full-time students in 19 biological science laboratories and three lecture classrooms. In addition, it will provide 41 faculty office spaces along with related administrative and clerical support areas. The building was designated in honor of Dr. Fisher by the Board of Trustees of the CSUC.

TREE REMOVAL CLASS TO AID SITE PREPARATION

Six eucalyptus trees in parking lot E-7 will be saved and five others removed as an instructional class project preliminary to site preparation for construction of Clyde P. Fisher Science Hall, which is scheduled to begin about June 15.

E. Douglas Gerard (Executive Dean) said that at the request of the Ornamental Horticulture Department the instructional program will be conducted as a Spring Quarter laboratory exercise. It involves trimming, and then removing, five eucalyptus trees which obstruct the construction site. The laboratory exercise will take place on two Saturdays (May 8 and 15), with a portion of parking lot E-7 to be barricaded to prevent damage to parked vehicles.

Gerard said that normally the contractor is responsible for site clearance, but that the Ornamental Horticulture Department asked for an opportunity to use the trees for class instruction. Gerard said the five trees to be removed are identified by red markers. Six other trees in parking lot E-7 will be preserved and incorporated in the landscaping surrounding the $5.6 million science hall which is scheduled to be occupied by summer 1978.

WOMEN'S CLUB MAY LUNCHEON

The annual May Luncheon of the Cal Poly Women's Club will be held on Saturday (May 8) at 12 noon in Vista Grande. Served will be hot breast of chicken, rice, broccoli, rolls, salad and sherbet and macaroons. Following luncheon will be installation of officers for 1976-77, presentation of Honorary Life members and introduction of three Junior and three Senior women students chosen to receive scholarships from the club. Tickets at $3.50 may be purchased from Gladys Dickson, 543-1928. Members and their house guests are invited.

ORGANIZATION COMMITTEE FORMED

President Robert E. Kennedy and Lezlie Labhard (Chairwoman, Academic Senate) have jointly announced the appointment of an Ad Hoc Committee on Academic Structure and Organization. As a result of mutual consideration and agreement on nominees submitted from each school, the following individuals have been appointed as representatives to serve on the committee. The Committee will be chaired by Dr. Hazel Jones, Vice President for Academic Affairs, who will call the first meeting of the committee. In addition to the seven school representatives (one from each school), five ex officio (voting) members will serve as a result of their linking pin role with other consultative bodies.

When the ad hoc committee is satisfied that it has a viable plan to propose, it will make recommendations simultaneously to the president and chair of the Academic Senate.

HOUSING OFFICE OPEN POLY ROYAL

Robert M. Bostrom (Director, Housing) has announced that because of the very great interest in and the scarcity of housing, many visitors to Poly Royal may have questions concerning housing. To better meet their needs, the Housing Office will be open from 8 am to 5 pm on Saturday (Apr. 24).

CORRECTION OF MOVING DATE FOR CHANCELLOR'S OFFICE

In a recent (Apr. 8) issue of Cal Poly Report, it was announced that the Chancellor's Office would move to its new headquarters effective Monday (Apr. 26). This item was based on the March 1976 issue of Counselors Digest, issued by the Student Affairs Office in the Chancellor's Office. The date was featured in a box on the front page of Counselors Digest.

A memorandum has been received from Charles Davis (Public Affairs Office, Chancellor's Office) stating that this information is incorrect. The move of the Chancellor's Office will, most likely, take place in two phases, later in the year. When final authoritative word is received as to the date(s), it will be published in Cal Poly Report.

MACBETH OR MACBETT, THAT IS THE QUESTION

Eugene Ionesco's play, Macbett, will be presented at 8 pm on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday (May 20, 21, and 22) in the Cal Poly Theater. Described by director Michael S. Malkin (Speech Communication) as a "hilarious and outrageous satire of Shakespeare's Macbeth," the play is the third and last production of the year at Cal Poly following the Death of a Salesman and Harvey, both of which played to sellout houses.

Tickets for all performances are priced at $1 for students and $ 2 for the public. They will go on sale on Monday (May 10) at Brown's Music Store in San Luis Obispo and at the University Union ticket office. Tickets will also be available at the box office of the Cal Poly Theater before each performance.

Nutrition Research Grant Applications. The National Institute of Dental Research (NIDR) has a continuing interest in nutrition research. The primary objective of the program is to obtain new knowledge which will contribute to a better understanding of the role of poor nutrition as an etiologic factor in oral disease and the role of sound nutrition as a preventive measure. Studies are therefore encouraged in three broad areas: (1) population or epidemiologic studies, (2) laboratory studies using model systems, and (3) human clinical studies.

The deadlines for the receipt of grant applications are July 1, November 1, and March 1. Preliminary drafts of the proposals and other inquiries regarding this program may be addressed to either Dr. Paul D. Frazier, Chief, or Drs. Matthew A. Kinnard or Robert J. Schuellein, Scientist Administrators, Soft Tissue Stomatology and Nutrition Program Branch, National Institute of Dental Research, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Maryland, 20014. Exemplary projects represent bridge-building efforts between research and development work on the one hand and actual operations in school settings on the other hand.
